

Track 15 (00:45):

Horatio Boggs: I had met up with a guy from Prattville you know, he was from Rockville. Of course I've heard of the family you know, you always hear "the family", you know your parents and all talking about them over the years and you remember the names but none of the people, of course I remembered the family name, Rockville. And he knew all of the Boggs; he named every one of them and knew all about them. He said there was one thing about them; said they'd all worked, they'd all drink, and they'd all fight (Laughs)

C. Mack: (Laughs)

H. Boggs: And I said that's potters for you. But I said I'm the exception, I'm the one that don't drink.

C. Mack: (Laughs)