

a natural state

That's my garden area back there. I am comfortable here. You know, I had a great life growing up here, playing in the dirt it was the same dirt that is here now. Probably ate a lot of dirt too... and down here, down here where I raise my chickens and stuff like that. To me, it is a simple life that I like, a simple life. I hate a complicated life style, you know. It is simple, you know you can come out here and you know be with the chickens and be with my little puppy. And you know out, out is comfortable. You know, I guess, you know, I just want a simple, uncomplicated life style. And that suits me.
