

Track 28 (01:01):

C. Mack: Now, you're really in this as a businessman, not as a, not as a...

Eric Miller: Hobby.

C. Mack: Not as a hobby potter or anything. Do you have a consciousness of the package or part of long tradition, an old family tradition?

E. Miller: Yeah I think about it when the sweat is dripping off... (Laughs)

C. Mack: (Laughs).

E. Miller: I'd like to burn it

C. Mack: It's like, why in the hell are you doing this now? (Laughs) Do you like it?

E. Miller: Yeah I like it, sure do. It's hard work but it keeps you in great shape, I quit smoking cigarettes and became a good man. But um, it keeps your body tuned up just right. We dig our clay with a shovel; still dig it with a shovel.

C. Mack: Truck it in from...

E. Miller: All over the map. It keeps you in great shape but.... It's hard work but, I like it, and I can quit and go fishing when I'm ready to.
