

a natural state

Artist: Nils Udo

Video 1: Spotlight (The Interview)

[sound of people working and chatting]

Udo: I walked through the land...two days about. And finally I discovered this great steep slope behind us and between these two big trees behind me, I discovered a space which inspires me to underline in a way that shape of the meadow

And then we started to dig out a huge hole...a bowl...for to construct finally a nest. My life and my work, nature is all what is not touched and damaged and destroyed by man. That means all what is growing, all what is mineral, all what surrounds us...us. From the little, from the tiniest up to the universe. All that is not manmade in a way is nature.
